Philosophy

Mondrian adopts a high conviction, long term, defensive investment approach with a clear valuation discipline.

We emphasise companies with sustainable free cash flow generation, strong balance sheets, and value accretive capital allocation. The strategy is driven by in depth proprietary research with regular company meetings.

Benefits of Our Approach

Mondrian uses a consistent long-term valuation discipline ensuring we avoid the irrationality that can exist in a volatile space such as Emerging Markets.

In a more challenging market environment, particularly when markets are falling, Mondrian would expect to protect portfolios better given the resilience and strength of our companies, while not sacrificing long-term upside capture.

Investment Process

- A value oriented dividend discount analysis at both the individual security and market level isolates value across geographic and industrial borders in a unified manner
- A long term purchasing power parity approach, supplemented by shorter-term probability assessment
- Fundamental research is strongly emphasized. An extensive program of company and market visits enhances initial qualitative and quantitative desk research, both prior to the purchase of a stock and after its inclusion in the portfolio

Return Summary

Quarter 2, 2022	-9.33	-9.56	-11.45	-10.83

Market Background

The MSCI Emerging Markets Index fell 11.4% as global recessionary fears grew amid pressure from persistent high inflation and further interest rate hikes. EM outperformed DM, almost entirely due to the outperformance of China which gained 3.4% and was the only market in the asset class to appreciate during Q2. Signs of re-opening from Covid lockdowns, a more supportive regulatory stance, and stimulus measures to boost growth supported the China recovery.

The growing recession concerns led to a weaker commodity pricing outlook which prompted losses across commodity linked markets such as South Africa, the Middle East and Latin America – a reversal from Q1. Correspondingly both Latin America (-21.9%) and EMEA (-17.1%) underperformed.

The portfolio outperformed the index; largely driven by overweight positioning in China and an underweight to EMEA. Stock selection in communication services and consumer staples also added value. Positioning in consumer discretionary held back returns.

Important Notes and Disclosures

1. Mondrian claims compliance with the Global Investment Performance Standards (GIPS®). Mondrian is a value-oriented defensive manager seeking to achieve high real returns for its clients. All products utilize an income-oriented value discipline. Mondrian's methodology is applied consistently to markets and individual securities, both bonds and equities. The Emerging Markets Equity Composite includes US dollar based discretionary fee paying portfolios, measured against the MSCI EM Index net of US withholding taxes. The portfolios are invested in non-US based equities with the allowance for hedging. The MSCI EM Index assumes the reinvestment of dividends after the deduction of withholding tax and approximates the minimum possible dividend re-investment. To receive a complete list and description of composites and/or a presentation that adheres to the GIPS standards, contact Mondrian Investment Partners (U.S.), Inc at 215-825-4500.
2. This Quarterly Update contains supplemental information which complements the Mondrian Emerging Markets Equity Composite GIPS compliant presentation. Additional information is available upon request.
3. Total Product Assets may consist of multiple composites. Performance for the main composite for the product is shown. Accounts may not be included in the main composite for reasons such as client domicile or client specific investment restrictions.
4. Calculations for P/E, P/B, dividend yield, sector country allocations and market caps are based on generally accepted industry standards. All characteristics are based on a representative account and derived by first calculating the characteristics for each security, and then calculating the weighted-average of these values. The details of exact calculations can be provided upon request.
5. Past performance is not indicative of future results. An investment involves the risk of loss. The investment return and value of investments will fluctuate.
6. There can be no assurance that the investment objectives of the strategy will be achieved.
7. All characteristic data provided is produced using Mondrian's accounting system data.
8. Performance returns marked "Net" reflect deduction of investment advisory fees and are calculated by deducting a quarterly indicative fee from the quarterly composite return. The indicative fee is defined as being the effective fee rate (or average weighted fee) at the composite's minimum account size. Actual net composite performance would be higher than the indicative net performance shown because some accounts have sliding fee scales and therefore lower effective fee rates.
9. Views expressed were current as of the date indicated, are subject to change, and may not reflect current views. Views should not be considered a recommendation to buy, hold or sell any security and should not be relied on as research or investment advice.
10. This Quarterly Update may include forward-looking statements. All statements other than statements of historical facts are forward-looking statements (including words such as "believe," "estimate," "anticipate," "may," "will," "should," "expect"). Although we believe that the expectations reflected in such forward-looking statements are reasonable, we can give no assurance that such expectations will prove to be correct. Various factors could cause actual results or performance to differ materially from those reflected in such forward-looking statements.
